

Terry rests in the cemetery on Cemetery Lane in Bourton on the Water. The Cemetery is signposted on Station Road, if you are driving into the village, the signpost is on your left as the road curves towards the right (past the COOP) just before reaching the village center.

Turn into Cemetery Lane then immediately turn right.
There is a formal car park through the main gates, which are usually shut.
Alternatively, you can park your car in the small lay by on the left.

Walk just around the corner after the layby and enter through the arched gateway.

Walk straight down the path way towards the area where the pathway meets another, this is less than 100 yards.

If you would like to leave flowers, please do. I will always make sure they are put in water.
